Conclusion: Information Literacy in the 21th Century

- In the 21st century, information literacy has evolved in a new information age (OECD, 2000).
- Students are developing their skills in communication, critical thinking, problem-solving, collaboration, innovation and creativity through Guided Inquiry and Reading to Learn (Kuhlthau, 2015).
- The role of Teacher- Librarians must be more important.

you!!
